Spotlight on Canada Day

As Canada celebrates 150 years, we remember the Indigenous peoples who have called this land home for much longer. Mennonite Church Canada has recently published a book of poetry and prayer entitled Lifting Hearts Off the Ground: Declaring Indigenous Rights in Poetry.

In this book: "two poets — one Indigenous, one Settler — come together to breathe life into the seemingly dry bones of the U.N. Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. And as we contemplate, wrestle with, and pray their words, we discover an invitation to renewed relationships with each other, the land, and Spirit."

1 Peter 2:11-17

11 Beloved, I urge you as aliens and exiles to abstain from the desires of the flesh that wage war against the soul. 12 Conduct yourselves honourably among the Gentiles, so that, though they malign you as evildoers, they may see your honourable deeds and glorify God when he comes to judge. 13 For the Lord's sake accept the authority of every human institution, whether of the emperor as supreme, 14 or of governors, as sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to praise those who do right. 15 For it is God's will that by doing right you should silence the ignorance of the foolish. 16 As servants of God, live as free people, yet do not use your freedom as a pretext for evil. 17 Honour everyone. Love the family of believers. Fear God. Honour the emperor.

Nutana Park Mennonite Church welcomes into fellowship and membership all persons who confess faith in Jesus Christ, without regard to their race, ethnic background, gender, age, sexual orientation, income, education, ability, and other factors that give rise to discrimination and marginalization.

A Refresh, Refocus, Renew litany (by George Epp)

Leader: Lord God, creator of everything, father and mother to us all, hear our prayers today.

People: Lord, open our hearts to receive you.

Leader: We admit that our affections and our attentions are divided, and that we often listen to other voices more attentively than to yours. Open our hearts and our ears, Lord.

People: Lord, open us to your healing.

Leader: We admit that we deny our need to be healed, that it's only other people who are ill. Lord, grant us a longing for the health only you can bring.

People: Lord, open us to your future.

Leader: Some days the future frightens us; it appears so different from our past. And yet, you are the Lord of the ages and whatever future is in store, assure us that you will walk with us.

People: Lord, what are you calling us to embrace?

Leader: We confess our reluctance to welcome what must be added to us in changing times. Lord, what are we missing that you'd have us welcome into our hearts, into our families, into our church, into our community?

People: Lord, of what are you calling us to let go?

Leader: We hang onto what's familiar as if our lives depended on it. If there are things we'd be better off giving up, teach us Lord what they are and give us courage to let go.

People: Lord, what are you calling us to live into?

Leader: We can't see what the future looks like. Nor can we imagine how we will live if this or that happens. Since you know the future as well as the past, we confess our need of your guidance and companionship as we navigate unfamiliar vistas.

People: Lord, refresh our tired minds and hearts, refocus our eyes on what is good, what is holy, what is centered on you. Renew our flagging spirits and give us abiding hope for whatever tomorrow you have in mind for us. In Jesus name we pray, Amen.
